Bladder Cancer. Two words that deliver a devastating impact. Every year, over 570,000* people are diagnosed with bladder cancer and 1.7m* people find themselves living with the condition. It is the 10th most common cause of cancer and the 13th* most common cause of death from cancer, but, if it is diagnosed early, the chances of survival are 90%.

Yet bladder cancer is the forgotten cancer and its symptoms are being mistaken for other conditions. We need to get people talking about it and we need them to take action. World Bladder Cancer Awareness month in May 2023 is a chance for us to do exactly that.

One of the main barriers surrounding the diagnosis of bladder cancer is the symptoms. Both symptoms and the way in which people respond to them can vary, especially as some of the symptoms are not immediately obvious.

The discovery of blood in their urine, pain when peeing and irregular peeing can be mistaken for other conditions and bladder cancer is left out of the conversation. This campaign deliberately highlights the misrepresentation of symptoms and encourages audiences to look again and re-evaluate, because what they think they saw first time round may in fact be something else entirely. The similarity to the effects of a urinary tract infection (UTI) for example, can also delay diagnosis.

During 2023 we want to spark conversations that drive awareness around the disease by focussing in on bladder cancer symptoms and overcoming any barriers to seeking a professional consultation.

So, this year we will be advising:

PATIENTS:
FEELING UNSURE?
GET CHECKED.

HCPS:
BE SURE IT’S NOT BLADDER CANCER.
Look at the image on this page. What do you see?

What you see will be different to what others see, depending on how you view it and what type of person you are.

This image is called the ‘Unsure Icon’ and it has been specially designed to be seen in different ways, just like the symptoms of bladder cancer. The range of reactions allows us to drive conversations and highlight the mis-diagnosis of symptoms to stakeholders.

Look again. You may notice that it contains imagery around blood in your urine, the shape of the human bladder, the passing of time, self-examination and being examined.

The Unsure Icon is the main creative asset to the campaign and will feature in print and static media, as well as in digital media in the form of an animation.
HOW TO GET INVOLVED

Here’s how to show your support for World Bladder Cancer Awareness Month 2023.

1  PHASE ONE: LAUNCH PHASE  1ST MAY 2023

This is when stakeholders reveal the themes behind the Unsure icon to coincide with World Bladder Cancer Awareness Month - opening up channels for debate around the mis-diagnoses of symptoms.

Promoted in owned channels, the reason for the icon and its themes can be explained.

2  PHASE TWO: ONGOING CAMPAIGN PHASE  DURING MAY 2023

Build on the individual themes of that make up the Unsure Icon within social channels and link to WBCPC information.
CAMPAIGN MESSAGES

The 2023 campaign has been designed to communicate key messages with one overarching goal - to increase awareness around the symptoms of bladder cancer. The campaign messages form the basis of many of the campaign materials and on page 13 you can find some template messages you can incorporate into your own activity.

RAISING CAMPAIGN AWARENESS

For this year’s World Bladder Cancer Awareness Month, the World Bladder Cancer Patient Coalition (WBCPC) is asking people to tell us what they see in the Unsure Icon and if they are ‘Feeling unsure? Get checked.’ It’s a campaign to raise awareness of the 10th most common – yet often forgotten - type of cancer.

ISSUING A CALL TO ACTION

While the symptoms on their own may not appear life threatening - check again - they could actually indicate the presence of bladder cancer. If you see blood in your urine, need to urinate on a more frequent basis, or have what you think could be a Urinary Tract Infection but do not know for sure, if you are: ‘Feeling unsure? Get checked.’

NEWS AND MEDIA

The media can play a key role in amplifying the messaging and reinforcing the importance of the call to action with the public and policymakers. To engage the media and generate coverage for the campaign it will be important to identify a number of ‘hooks’ that create news and interest and you should consider:

- A clear call to action
- Strong data relating to your country for example, X% of cancer patients have not received the treatment they need
- Credible spokespeople such as a politician, a CEO of a patient organisation or a Chairperson
- Patient story this helps the audience relate to the call to action

SELLING-IN TO MEDIA

It is important to identify the most appropriate journalists and publications to approach with the story. As the key audience is the general public efforts may need to be focused on national news and consumer media outlets, but there is still a place for healthcare trade media in targeting healthcare professionals and system leaders.

- Will reach our target audiences
- Has an interest in the topic
- Understands the story being told
CAMPAIGN BRANDING

TECHNICAL DATA

Whether working across social, print, digital or film mediums, there are several core elements to the campaign which should be utilised consistently across all applications. Where artwork and assets are supplied on our central Canva hub, these should be used wherever possible, and when adapting/creating your own materials, please adhere to the guidance provided here.

The core collateral elements consist of the following items:

OSCINE X BOLD FOR HEADINGS
Oscine regular for body copy. This is an example sub-heading and paragraph style.
